The Power of the Word

Psalm 119:103-105

¹⁰³ How sweet are your words to my taste, sweeter than honey to my mouth! ¹⁰⁴ I gain understanding from your precepts; therefore I hate every wrong path. ¹⁰⁵ Your word is a lamp for my feet, a light on my path.

The background of the image is a close-up, top-down view of a honeycomb. The hexagonal cells are filled with a golden-yellow substance, likely honey, which has a slightly textured, viscous appearance. The lighting is even, highlighting the natural patterns and colors of the honeycomb.

Then he said to me, “Son of man, eat this scroll I am giving you and fill your stomach with it.” So I ate it, and it tasted as sweet as honey in my mouth.
