AMONG FRIENDS with Robert

What would it be like if Jesus lived your life right now? The late Dallas Willard asked that question in a conference many years ago. Instead of thinking about what Jesus would do, he asked people to imagine how Jesus would transform the lives we have right now. If He lived in your house, with your family, here in Tulsa how would He proclaim the gospel? That's precisely what He's called us to do. When He said "Come, follow me," we did not move to Tiberias on the shores of the sea of Galilee, purchase a net and a boat, and invest in the local fishing industry. We followed Him right here, where He met us. We believed, repented, confessed His name, and were baptized (immersed in water) and began a journey with Jesus. We became disciples.

This morning I am excited to begin not only a new sermon series, but also introduce the congregational theme for 2018 at Crosstown – "Believe." From March to October, our church will learn again to be disciples of Jesus. We're starting over, practicing together what it means to Think, Act, and Be like Jesus. We will study 10 core doctrines of the Christian life and apply those in 10 critical ways to our daily living. We will then focus on the 10 core virtues (i.e., fruit) that characterize someone who is becoming more like Jesus. We are basing this series on the book, "Believe," by Randy Frazee, which is a follow-up to the bestselling book, "The Story." I would encourage you, if you can, to purchase a copy of the "Believe" book online (www.amazon.com) or pick up a copy at Mardel's bookstore.

We could not ask for a better time to work together through this material. Every day, we have opportunity to ask and answer questions about our faith. Our children press us for knowledge and our friends ask us for information. Our hearts burn to know more about our faith to reassure us through life's daily challenges. We know that doctrine is more than principles on a page. They are practices for daily living. As James said, we are to be doers of the word, and not just hearers only.

This theme is designed to help us see how our beliefs inform our daily living and vice versa. Our series will also allow us to invite friends who have questions about Christian beliefs. For inquirers, beginners, skeptics, and strugglers-everyone can learn as a disciple of Jesus. Friends, as we journey through this new series, one simple truth will become undeniably clear: what you believe drives everything!

Robert
